The Horse

Horses are beautiful animals that have a long history with humans. First used for meat and hides, horses became domesticated by humans who soon saw their value as forms of transportation. Horses pulled chariots, wagons, and carried humans long distances. There are many different breeds and sizes of horses. They are used for racing, jumping, showing, and hobby riding. Horses make wonderful pets but they need a lot of work. They need lots of food, water, grooming, and veterinarian care.
